Words of Encouragement

October 26, 2025

As night comes, many of us are ready to wrap the covers around us and drift to sleep. Our days were hectic with stressful tasks, and the responsibilities of the next day hangs heavily over us. The Lord knows we are tired – He created us for rhythms of both work and rest. Many of us have found that prayer is the best way to wind down from the exhausting busyness of the day, and find peace before we lay down to sleep. Talking to God not only allows us an opportunity to express our concerns and fears to Him, but also acknowledges that our lives come from and are sustained by God, and that He is the reason we can sleep in safety and peace despite our circumstances.

It is important to make prayer a part of our nightly rhythm as we wind down in anticipation for sleep, alongside tasks like brushing our teeth or checking our email and text messages. We can trust that no matter how we are feeling, or what we tell the Lord, He will always be with us, listen to our requests, and care for us.

“God has a plan for our lives, and surrendering to Him means we set aside our own plans and eagerly seek his.”

Praying involves more than merely requesting things from God. Biblically, a vital part of prayer is worship. As the Lord of all our days, He is worthy of honor and glory. We might not always feel ready to worship as we prepare for bed, but there is much for which we should praise the Lord. He is the reason we have eternal life and a hope that can never be thwarted. Only because of Him can we sleep and awaken again, trusting that each breath comes from Him.

So, during our bedtime routines, let us carve out a space to be present with the Lord and pray to Him. We might still find ourselves becoming drowsy and falling to sleep while talking with Him. But peace and hope will be much more present in our lives because we will be turning our thoughts back to the One for whom we were made. And nothing in life compares with knowing, and being known by God.

QUEST MOMENT

Learning to Recognize God's Voice

Just like Samuel needed Eli's help, we must learn to recognize when God is speaking.

We grow in discernment through:

Time in the Word

Promptings of the Holy Spirit

Counsel from mature believers

Obedience to what we already know

But solid food belongs to those who are mature... who have trained themselves to discern good and evil.” –Hebrews 5:14
