Words of Encouragement

November 9, 2025

Question: How do you praise God when you don't understand the things that are happening in your life and God is silent? How do you maintain prayerful communication and keep your eyes on Jesus when they're full of tears? Most of us have little difficulty worshipping God when things are going great in our life. But life and circumstances are not always pleasant. How do you worship God then? What do you do when you're hurting and in desperate need, and God seems a million miles away?

The deepest level of worship (which we must desire to ascend to) is praising God in spite of pain, thanking God during a trial, trusting and loving God when He seems distant. Yes, God wants you to sense His presence, but He's more concerned that you "trust" Him more than you "feel" Him. Faith (not feelings) pleases God.

Regardless of circumstances and how you feel, hang on to God's unchanging character. Remind yourself what you know to be eternally true about God: He is good, His care and love for me is immeasurable, He is always with me.

*"God has a plan for our lives, and surrendering to Him means we set aside
our own plans and eagerly seek his."*

He knows what I'm going through, and God has a plan for my life. Never doubt in the dark what God has told you in the light. During times of spiritual dryness and testing, we must patiently rely on the promises of God, not our emotions, and realize that God is taking us to a deeper level of maturity.

We must trust God in spite of our feelings, and most importantly, remember what He has already done for us. If God never did anything else for you, He would still deserve your continual worship and praise for the rest of your life because of what Jesus did for you on the cross. God's Son died for you! This is your greatest reason for worship. Jesus gave up everything so that we could live with Him forever. Jesus gave His all (and rescued us from eternity in hell), so that we could share in His glory forever! That alone is worthy of our continual worship and praise.

QUEST MOMENT

Jesus Is in a Class All by Himself

In Mark 2:1-12, Jesus doesn't just heal the paralyzed man – He reveals His divine authority to forgive sin.

While the crowd saw a miracle on the outside, Jesus was doing something greater on the inside.

Lesson:

Jesus stands alone as the only human with the divine authority to forgive sin.

We respond by:

Coming to Him in faith

Trusting His power to forgive

Sharing His authority and grace with others
