Words of Encouragement

November 15, 2026

"God has a plan for our lives, and surrendering to Him means we set aside our own plans and eagerly seek his."

"The Lord is not slow to fulfill his promise as some count slowness, but is patient toward you, not wishing that any should perish, but that all should reach repentance." (2 Peter 3:9)
It can be hard loving someone deeply and knowing they do not yet know Jesus. You see their life, you know their story, and you want so badly for them to experience the peace, forgiveness, and new life that you have found in Christ.
Sometimes the waiting can feel long. Sometimes you wonder if your prayers are making any difference. But do not confuse waiting with hopelessness. The heart of God toward your family and friends is still full of grace.
And while you wait, let grace shape the way you love them. They do not need to feel like a project every time you walk into the room. Let them experience the kindness of Jesus through you. Listen to them. Laugh with them. Be present. Salvation has never depended on how quickly someone responds. It depends on the Savior who died, rose again, and still draws people to Himself.
Scripture says that God desires all people to be saved and to come to the knowledge of His truth. That tells us something beautiful about our God's heart. You are not trying to convince God to care about your family. He already does. Their current condition is not greater than the power of Christ to save.
Even though you may have been praying the same prayer for years, do not let discouragement harden your heart. I encourage you to keep praying, but pray from peace. Pray knowing the work of salvation belongs to Jesus. Pray because you have experienced and know God's goodness. Pray because His grace is greater than resistance, history, pride, pain, or unbelief.
We are called to trust in God's perfect faithfulness and timing. Keep believing in God's amazing grace. Jesus knows their name, their story, their questions, and every place their heart has been wounded. The same grace that found you is more than able to find them. Until that day comes, rest in the Savior who loves them even more than you do.
